Programme of Extra-Mural Studies

1960-61

香 港 大 學 校 外 課 程 部

一 九 六 零 — 六 一 年 度 課 程 一 覧

Foreword

Since early 1957, Extral-Mural courses have been held regularly in the University, in the central district of Victoria, in Kowloon and in the New Territories, offering to all interested men and women opportunities for access to various branches of knowledge. By attending these courses, persons of all classes may widen their cultural interests and understanding of the modern world at a time when the frontiers of knowledge are rapidly expanding. Fifty seven courses are described in this booklet and it is expected that several more will be offered later in the year.

Normally there are no entrance examinations for admission and fees are kept reasonably low.

Certificates of Attendance are issued, on request, to students who have attended at least 2/3 of the meetings of a course of twenty or more teaching hours.

The organiser of these courses cordially invites comments on the courses herein offered as well as suggestions for new subjects.

Thanks are due to the British Council, the Methodist College, St. Mary's Canossian College, Queen Elizabeth School, Northcote Training College and the Chinese Manufacturers' Association for permission to use their premises to hold some of the courses.

T. C. LAI

Acting Director of Extra-Mural Studies.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY

The Interpretation of Survey Maps

The course will consist of a series of ten lectures with complementary practical work, each of two hours in length. Numbers will be restricted to twenty and preference will be given to those who express a willingness to take a full and active part in the practical work which forms an essential part of the course.

A study will be made of the cartographical techniques and the interpretation of Hong Kong maps on various scales, extracts from United Kingdom maps, Ordnance Survey maps of the United Kingdom and Survey maps of the Federation of Malaya.

The course will be useful as a revision course for teachers of Geography especially those who will be teaching the revised Advanced Level Syllabus which now includes Malayan maps, since the major part of the course will be based on maps of Malaya. The course will also be of interest to all those whose work or interests bring them into contact with maps.

The course will run from January to April 1961. The tutor will be Mr. J. ROSE, B.Sc. (LOND.), Lecturer in the Department of Education, University of Hong Kong.

Language of Instruction:

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY

Landscape and Man in South-East Asia

The course will consist of a series of 20 lectures, twice weekly.

After a consideration of South-east Asia as a whole, there will be a more detailed study of the interaction of man and landscape in the peninsula and islands of South-east Asia.

The course is calculated to appeal especially to teachers of Geography in Secondary Schools for whom it will act as a revision course in that emphasis will be placed on modern development and a method of approach will be used which is designed to improve the presentation of somewhat similar courses on this region which are given as a part of the Geography course for senior classes. However, the course will have a wider appeal and should be of interest and use to all whose work or interests call for some understanding of the physical and human environments of South-east Asia.

The course will run from September to December 1960. The tutor of the course will be Mr. J. ROSE, B.Sc. (LOND.), Lecturer in the Department of Education, University of Hong Kong.

ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC AND FINE ARTS

The Art of Chinese Calligraphy

Tutor: Mr. TSENG KE-TUAN, Lecturer in Chinese Literature and Calligraphy at New Asia College.

ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC & FINE ARTS

Architecture and Sound

Sound is one part of our total environment and contributes in a very large degree to our sensory experience of buildings and places. This course is conceived in broad terms (and will be relatively non-technical) as an exploration of the problems in this field, which face architects in a modern urban society.

It will be run in 2 parts each consisting of 10 lectures (2 per evening twice a week for five weeks in all). Each part is designed to be complete in itself, but students should not attempt Part II unless they have either followed Part I or done similar work elsewhere.

Part I—Noise in Buildings—will include Fundamentals of Sound, Behaviour of Sound out-of-doors and within-doors, Acceptable Levels of Sound, Planning and Insulation as means of obtaining Acceptable Levels, and Application to Practical Problems.

Part II—Acoustics in Places of Assembly—will include the History of Buildings involving Acoustics, Criteria for the Design of Halls, and Design for Debate, Schools, Religious Buildings, Music, Drama, and the Multi-Purpose Hall.

The course will run from September-November 1960.

The tutor will be Mr. J. A. PRESCOTT, B.ARCH. (LIV.), M.C.D., A.R.I.B.A., A.M.T.P.I., Lecturer in Architecture at the University of Hong Kong.

Language of Instruction:

English

ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC AND FINE ARTS

The Basis of Architectural Form

A course of 15 lectures designed to give a background understanding of today's architecture.

An attempt will be made to isolate the fundamental factors on which a critical appreciation of architecture can be made, irrespective of period. Historical reference will necessarily, however, be limited.

The course will consist of a study of the development of architecture in the 19th and 20th centuries together with an analysis of the forces which have moulded its forms.

The lectures will be illustrated by slides.

The course will run from February 1961 for 15 teaching weeks. The tutor will be Mr. J. A. PRESCOTT, B. ARCH. (LIV.), M.C.D., A.R.I.B.A., A.M.T.P.I., Lecturer in Architecture at the University of Hong Kong.

ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC AND FINE ARTS

Painting for Beginners

An evening course meeting once weekly for 12 weeks. Meetings will take the form of three hour sessions divided into three sections, art appreciation, demonstration and the students' own practical work. This course is aimed to give confidence, understanding and technique to the complete beginner in painting. The section devoted to art appreciation will be in the form of illustrated talks to acquaint students with the many and varied forms of artistic expression found at different times all over the world. This will include not only painting and sculpture but examples of decoration and design. The demonstrations will be in connection with the practical work to be done by the students themselves. Basic principles of design and the elements of picture making, such as the use of line, tone, texture and colour will be taught. Throughout the course a variety of different media will be used and experiments will be made in the use of ink, chalk, pencil, water and oil colour. A small charge will be made to cover the cost of materials used.

If the course proves successful, the Department may offer a follow-up course of 12 weeks.

The course will run from September 1960 to April 1961. The tutor will be Mr. J. WARNER, ART TEACHER'S DIPLOMA (READING), NATIONAL DIPLOMA IN DESIGN, Art Teacher at Northcote Training College.

Language of Instruction:

English

Entry Requirements:

Closing Date:

The closing date for applications will be September 5, 1960. All applications must be accompanied by the correct fee.

ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC AND FINE ARTS

Art Appreciation

12 illustrated lectures intended for all who feel in need of some orientation in art. It is aimed to give the newcomer a general idea of the subject without confusing him with detail and burdening him with historic facts. It intends to enable the student to bring some order into the wealth of motives, names, periods and styles which make up artistic expression. By comparing paintings from different times and places, by understanding the context in which they were produced, a complete picture of the scope of painting from pre-historic times to the present day will be presented.

The course will run from October to December 1960. The tutor will be Mr. J. WARNER, ART TEACHER'S DIPLOMA (READING), NATIONAL DIPLOMA IN DESIGN, Art Teacher at Northcote Training College.

Language of Instruction:

English

Entry Requirements:

The closing date for applications will be September 18, 1960. All applications must be accompanied by the correct fee.

ARCHITECTURE, MUSIC AND FINE ARTS

Basic Design

A course of 24 weekly classes, each lasting two hours, in Basic Design, with an inclination towards Interior Decoration and Textile Design. The course is intended for those interested in design rather than fine art, and who wish to acquire knowledge of the basic essentials of design. These are texture, colour, contrast, pattern formation and pattern sources and design treatment. Perhaps some history of the subject will be done, according to the progress of the group. These will be classes, not lectures, in which the students will concern themselves with various design exercises.

The course will run from October 1960 to April 1961. The tutor will be Mr. JOHN HADFIELD, ART TEACHER'S DIPLOMA (MINISTRY OF EDUCATION), NATIONAL DIPLOMA IN DESIGN, Art Teacher at Queen Elizabeth School.

SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS

Histogenesis

During the two previous years, courses have been given on the basic tissues of the body, and on the histology of the various organs. This course of 10 weekly lectures is intended to cover those changes in the structure of embryonic cells leading to the appearance of recognizable tissues.

Histogenetic changes are essentially a complex of decentralizing processes involving various trends and causing embryonic development to pass from a pre-functional to a functional state. The timing of this varies considerably in the various tissues and organs of the body.

The course will run from September to December 1960. The tutor will be Mr. R. B. MANEELY, M.Sc. (LIV.), M.R.C.V.S. Senior Lecturer in Anatomy at the University of Hong Kong.

Language of Instruction:

English

Entry Requirements:

Entry will be restricted to teachers of advanced level biology.

Place: The Histology Laboratory, University of Hong Kong Pokfulum Road.
