THE DEPARTMENT OF EXTRA-MURAL STUDIES

Following the recommendation of the Keswick Report (1952) and the Jennings-Logan Report (1953), the Department of Extra-Mural Studies was formally instituted by the University Court on 21st May, 1957.

A Classic Definition of Extra-Mural Aims

"We may assume that University teaching is teaching suited to adults; that it is scientific, detached, and impartial in character; that it aims not so much at filling the mind of the student with facts or theories as at calling forth his own individuality, and stimulating him to mental effort; that it accustoms him to the critical study of authorities, and that it implants in his mind a standard of thoroughness, and gives him a sense of the difficulty as well as of the value of truth".
(Hobhouse and Headlam, 1909 Report on University Extra-Mural Tutorial Classes)

緒言

一九〇九年何浩斯與赫德蘭兩氏對「大學校外課程」之目的曾作如下之解釋：「所謂大學教育者，吾人可假設其為一種適合成人之教育，乃科學化，超然而絕無偏倚者。大學教育之目的不在灌輸有關事實之一般常識或理論，而在啟發學人之本能，激動其思維，並建立其對學問之嚴謹及具有批評性之態度，並使其切身體驗求真之艱難而更珍貴之。」

本部經籌舉辦符合一般大學水準之課程，以供各界人士公餘進修，故除少數特殊科目外，申請入學並無資格限制。自本部于一九五七年成立以來曾參與聽講之人數已近五千。本手冊包括八十餘項課程。本年度更可隨時增加，屆時當予公佈。如學具有增設任何科目之建議。本部至表歡迎並隨時接洽。

報名截止日期通常為該課程開始兩週以前；惟九月與十月開始之各課程則一般在九月十一日截止。報名時請填具申請書並附學費逕寄香港大學，如未獲取錄將予開課前通知，退還學費。任何課程倘人數不足則可能取消。

凡參加不少過二十小時之課程而實際上課次數超過三分之二者得申請發給聽講證書。本部歡迎各界索取簡章并希望各學員協助提高一般人士對公餘進修之興趣與熱心。

本部依照本港公眾假期期休假。聖誕節與農曆新年假期則由各講師與學員協商訂定。

COURSES

The Department aims to provide a wide variety of courses, on subjects appropriate to University provision, wherever they are needed throughout Hong Kong generally.

This prospectus contains particulars of the 80 courses so far planned for 1961-2 session (some additional courses will be offered later), and we sincerely hope you will find included the course you want. If so, we look forward to receiving your application; if not, please help us to help you by letting us know your needs. It may be possible, e.g., to make alternative arrangements for time and/or place of meeting, or language of instruction, if there is sufficient demand. Indeed, it might be possible to arrange a course specially for you and your friends or colleagues - on an appropriate subject of your choice and at a time and place convenient to you, if you are able to guarantee a minimum enrolment of 15. Such a request should give a class roots of its own, so that it could develop into a permanent local feature.

In order to get the most out of their Extra-Mural Studies students elsewhere find that a particularly valuable type of course is the "Tutorial Class". This is the traditional name given to a 3 year course consisting of 3 annual sessions of 20-24 meetings each and conducted by the same tutor. By building on the common experience of the first year together, the class and the tutor can go on to work of progressively higher quality in the second and third years. In a number of courses offered this year students are given the chance to opt for such a tutorial class and I believe it would be a real step forward if they took advantage of this opportunity.

NOTES

Experience shows that personal recommendation is the best way of introducing people to Extra-Mural Courses. We would, therefore, be most grateful for any assistance you are able to give in bringing this prospectus, either verbally or by posting up, to the attention of your friends or of your colleagues at work or in the clubs, societies or institutions to which you are attached.

While supplies last we shall be glad to send copies of the prospectus to addresses on your advice.

For persons, or groups, interested in specific courses, however, separate particulars are available and will gladly be sent on request.

ADMISSION & ENROLMENT

Extra-Mural Classes are normally OPEN TO ALL ADULTS who are interested, though occasionally, if a course is to have real value, applicants must possess certain defined qualification. The Director may, at his discretion, refuse to admit an applicant.

iii.

Applications should be made on the enclosed APPLICATION FORM (further copies of which are available from the Department) and must be accompanied by the appropriate fee. APPLICATIONS FOR COURSES COMMENCING IN SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER SHOULD BE RECEIVED BY 11TH SEPTEMBER, 1961; FOR ALL OTHER COURSES THE CLOSING DATE IS A FORT-NIGHT BEFORE THE COURSE STARTS. If you are not accepted you will be notified before the course is due to commence, and your fee returned to you. Meanwhile please assume the course will begin at the time and place advertised. The University, however, reserves the right to cancel any course if insufficient numbers are enrolled.

Certificates of Attendance are issued, on request, to students who have attended two-thirds of a course of at least 20 meetings in length.

HOLIDAYS

It is left to tutors and students to decide together whether to hold classes during the two weeks adjoining Christmas and the New Year and during the week of the Chinese New Year (February 5th 1962). Other general holidays include: October 16, November 13, 1961 January 1, April 12, 20-23, October 15, and November 12, 1962.

CHARLES LAMB (1775-1834)

(5 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $10

Tutor : Professor Edmund Blunden, C.B.E., M.C. M.A.(Oxon.), F.R.S.L.

Professor Blunden writes: "Charles Lamb was one of the unusual people who combine a business career with authorship, and, in this instance, with permanent literary achievement. His "Essays of Elia" remain among the masterpieces of English prose, his letters among the finest of their kind, his poems occasionally memorable - but he and his sister Mary also produced "Tales from Shakespeare", a book not yet superseded. Lamb's private history is sadly interesting. He incidentally had an official concern with the Far East which is oddly responsible for the amusing essay "Roast Pig".

This course is designed for all who are interested in English and English studies.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Tuesday at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 3rd October, 1961.

BRITISH DRAMA IN THE 1950's

(6 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $12

Tutor : W.I. McLachlan, B.A.(Oxon.)
Assistant Lecturer, Department of English, University of Hong Kong.

This course provides an introduction to the so-called 'renaissance' of British drama in the past decade, concentrating on the Younger Dramatists, in particular John Osborne, Arnold Wesker, John Arden, Harold Pinter and Samuel Beckett. An attempt will be made to assess some of the social and literary reasons for the modern tendencies, and to trace the various influences from Europe and America. The following plays will be discussed:

Look Back in Anger (John Osborne). Waiting for Godot (Samuel Beckett).
All That Fall (Samuel Beckett). The Birthday Party (Harold Pinter).
I'm Talking About Jerusalem (Arnold Wesker). Serjeant Musgrave's
Dance (John Arden)
(Penguin, Faber and Methuen Paperbacks)

If the students so wish this course can be expanded to 10 meetings. Students are urged to read the above plays to which particular reference will be made.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Tuesdays at 5.45 p.m. in the Catholic Centre, 15-17 Connaught Road Central, starting 9th January, 1962.

D.H. LAWRENCE: NOVELS AND POEMS

(6 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $12

Tutor : J.D. Needham, B.A.(Oxon.), Assistant Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Hong Kong.

Lawrence's major interests, in prose and poetry, will be defined and his contribution to the English novel evaluated. Basic texts will be "Sons and Lovers" "The Rainbow", "Women in Love", "Lady Chatterley's Lover", and the Penguin selection of his poetry. Students are urged to obtain and read these books beforehand.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Thursday at 6.0 p.m. in the British Council, Buckingham Building, Nathan Road, Kowloon, starting 5th October, 1961.

If the students so wish this course can be expanded to 10 meetings.

* * * *

ASPECTS OF THE ENGLISH NOVEL

(24 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $48

Tutor : Mary Visick, M.A., B.Litt.(Oxon.), Lecturer in the Department of English at the University of Hong Kong.

This course will provide a thoughtful and stimulating introduction to the English novel. It will take the form of a critical and imaginative exploration, by means of lecture and informal discussion, of 10 selected novels, including: Emma (Jane Austen), Our Mutual Friend (Charles Dickens), Middlemarch (George Eliot), The Portrait of a Lady (Henry James), A Passage to India (E.M. Forster), The Towers of Trebizond (Rose Macaulay), Mountolive (Lawrence Durrell) and The Bell (Iris Murdoch). This selection may be modified to meet the wishes of students after they have met the Tutor and each other. It would help immensely if students could read at least some of the novels beforehand.

Each meeting will last for 1½ hours and, if the students so wish, the course could develop into a more substantial study of English Literature extending over 3 years.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Wednesday at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 4th October, 1961.

KNOW YOURSELF

(24 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $48

Tutor : E. Kvan, Cand.Theol.(Copenhagen), Lecturer in Psychology, University of Hong Kong.

This course provides an introductory survey of the vast field of knowledge about one's self. Starting with the physiological background it will then deal with certain key points in human life: Birth and Childhood, Adolescence and Marriage, Work and Fatigue, Maturity and Old age. Other special topics to be discussed include: Creative Thinking and Abnormal Mental Life. If students so wish this course can develop into a more detailed introduction to General Psychology extending over 3 years.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Thursday at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 28th September, 1961.

* * * *

MAN IN SOCIETY

(10 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $15

Tutor : Ieuan Hughes, LL.B.(Wales).

In this course we shall explore such topics as:
What is man and what were his beginnings? How did earliest man solve the problem of living? What are primitive societies and how do they manage? How did civilization begin? How do ancient and modern civilizations compare? What are the significant patterns in contemporary life and what are the main problems confronting man in the modern world?

Each meeting will last for 1½ hours and ample opportunity will be given for questions and discussions. If the students so wish the syllabus can be modified or expanded to cover 3 years in the general field of social anthropology.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Mondays at 5.45 p.m. in the Main Building, University of Hong Kong, starting 16th October, 1961

THE CHARACTER OF WESTERN THOUGHT

(20 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $40

Tutor : J. Agassi, M.Sc., Jerus., Ph.D. London, Head of the Department of Philosophy, University of Hong Kong.

What are the main trends in the development of Western thought from the Renaissance to the present? What are its special characteristics and how do they differ from other modes of thought, (e.g., Chinese, American-Indian)? How are these differences reflected in attitudes to e.g. education, women, science, art, social thinking etc.

If the students so wish this course can be developed into a 3-year course on Western Philosophy.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Thursdays at 6.0 p.m. in the British Council Reading Room, Gloucester Building, Hong Kong, starting 5th October, 1961.

* * * *

THE CONQUEST OF HAPPINESS

(12 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $20

Tutor : J. Agassi, M.Sc.(Jerus.), Ph.D.London, Head of the Department of Philosophy, University of Hong Kong.

This course will investigate why modern people, in spite of the many material facilities for the enjoyment of life, are not happy. The various remedies ranging from asceticism to hedonism will be discussed.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Tuesday at 6.0 p.m. in the Queen Elizabeth School, Sai Yee Street, Kowloon, starting 26th September, 1961.

PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE

(5 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $10

Tutor : J. Agassi, M.Sc.Jerus., Ph.D. London, Lecturer in the Department of Philosophy, University of Hong Kong.

This course will provide a searching analysis of the following topics:- "Why Believe the Scientists?" The problem of Induction, Science and commonsense, Science and Everyday Thought.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Tuesdays at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 9th
January, 1962.

* * * *

HUMAN RELATIONS

(10 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $20

Tutor : Miss Beryl Wright, B.Ec.(Syd.), A.B.Ps.S., Lecturer in the Department of Education, University of Hong Kong.

This course will take the form of a discussion group on the psychological understanding of Human Relations. It is an experimental project and preference will be given to applicants whose previous experience seems most likely to equip them for contributing to the discussion.

While selected readings may be used as a guide, the aim will be spontaneous expression.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Wednesdays at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 4th October, 1961.

CHILD PSYCHOLOGY - Problems in Development

(12 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $24

Tutors : Mrs. Anita K. Li, Miss B.R. Wright, Mrs. Gennie H. Lee, all staff of the Child Guidance Centre, H.K.U.; Dr. S.C. Hu, Senior Medical Officer in charge of Pediatrics Unit, Queen Mary Hospital; and Mrs. Louise Penman, Education Officer.

This course, which is open to all interested, is a sequel to the Child Psychology course given in 1960 and thus assumes some previous knowledge of normal child development. It is concerned with the common disturbances of development which may arise during childhood. The emphasis will be on psychological problems but reference will be made to those physical abnormalities which have psychological consequences. The course is under the general direction of Mrs. Anita K. Li.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Fridays at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 26th September, 1961.

* * * *

INTRODUCTION TO SEMANTICS

PAINTING FOR BEGINNERS

(12 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $50

Tutor : Miss S.J. Buck, Associate of Royal College of Art,
National Diploma in Design, Art Teacher at Northcote
Training College.

The course is designed to provide a grounding for the complete beginner and to act as a stimulus for the persons with little experience in painting. The meetings will take the form of two hour sessions given once weekly. Each session will be divided into two sections, a short illustrated talk and demonstration of method, which will then be developed individually in a longer practical period. Basic principles of design and the elements of composition, such as the use of line, tone, texture and colour will be taught. Experiments will be made in a variety of media such as ink, chalk, pencil, poster and oil colour.

A small charge will be made to cover the cost of these materials.

If there is a satisfactory response the Department may offer (in the new year) a more advanced course in the techniques of painting in oils.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Wednesday 5.30 p.m. in the Art Room, Northcote Training College, Bonham Road, Hong Kong starting 27th September, 1961.

28.

DESIGN OF MULTI-STOREY BUILDINGS

(20 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $50

Tutor : Professor S. Mackey, A.M.I.C.E., M.I.Struct.E. Head of the Department of Engineering, University of Hong Kong.

This course of lectures will cover modern engineering developments in design and construction of multi-storey buildings in reinforced concrete and structural steelwork.

The syllabus will include foundation design and construction, selection of structural framing, analysis of multi-storey bents for vertical loading and side sway by moment distribution and slope-deflexion methods, reinforced concrete and steel-framed construction; preliminary selection of members sizes; detailed design of members and connections in normally reinforced and pre-stressed concrete and in structural steel; construction methods, planning and plant; non-traditional construction.

As the course is designed particularly to cater for the needs of practising engineers engaged in the design and construction of tall buildings, it is assumed that all those attending the course will have a knowledge of theory and design of structures up to University degree level or its equivalent.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Mondays from 5.30-7.30 p.m. in the Duncan Sloss School of Engineering and Architecture, starting 9th October, 1961.

DESIGN IN THE HOUSE

(12 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee 24

Tutor : Mr. Jon A. Prescott, B.Arch.(Liverpool),M.C.D.,A.R.I.B.A. A.M.T.P.I., Lecturer in Architecture at the University of Hong Kong.

We are surrounded in our houses by a mass of objects supposedly either functional or aesthetic. The purpose of this course is to help us to get the greatest pleasure and value out of them through an informed understanding of Form, Texture and Colour used in Furnishings, Furniture, Utensils, Domestic Appliances, Lighting, Sound Equipment and Interior Decoration generally.

Students will be encouraged to develop their appreciation through practical exercises.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Thursdays at 5.45 p.m. in the Duncan Sloss School of Engineering and Architecture, starting 4th January, 1962.

NON-EUCLIDEAN GEOMETRIES

(24 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $40

Tutor : Dr. S.T. Tsou, B.Sc.(Sun Yat-Sen), Ph.D.(Liv.), Lecturer in Mathematics at the University of Hong Kong.

In this course different possible structures of the physical world are discussed. The course consists of the following parts, (I) Geometry without Parallel-Postulate, (II) Lobatchevski's Postulate of Parallelism, (III) Riemann's Postulate of Parallelism.

Before the introduction of the "Parallelism Postulate", the materials used will be more or less the same as those in school geometry but the proofs, in some cases, have to be modified; the introduction of these "Parallelism Postulates" leads to some conclusions which may be "strange" to the Euclidean minded.

There will also be discussions on the consistence of the new geometries based on Poincare's models.

The course will be conducted in Cantonese and will meet on Wednesdays at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 27th September, 1961.

非歐幾何學

* * * * *

本課程之主要目的為討論直觀空間之各種可能情況。最初數講之題材將與普通中學幾何內容大致相同，然後引入「平行公設」。因所用之「平行公設」不同，一部份結論將與歐氏幾何定理迥異。本課程分二部：第一部份純為理論，從而進入羅氏及黎氏幾何。數位非歐幾何學先驅者之工作將加以說明。在第二部份，引入羅氏公設。黎氏幾何在第二部份討論。最後數講為關於各種非歐幾何之邏輯相容性。

RELATIVITY

(16 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $30

Tutor : Dr. K.V. Leung, Ingenieur-Docteur U. of Paris, Lecturer in the Department of Mathematics at the University of Hong Kong.

The course is designed for those with a good working knowledge of three dimensional vector analysis, but who are by no means specialists in relativity. The lectures consist of the following groups (1) The Lorentz transformation - Introduction, wave theory of light, Maxwell's equations, (2) Relativistic kinematics - Newtonian transformation, velocity and acceleration, Fitzgerald - Lorentz contraction, Time dilatation, (3) Optical and dynamical applications - Doppler's effect, aberration, mass, force, energy and momentum, force on a moving charge, harmonic oscillator and (4) Modern physics - Hydrodynamics, Sommerfeld's theory of the Hydrogen Atom, Compton effect, de Broglie Waves, Dirac Wave equation.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Thursday at 5.45 p.m. in the University Main Building, starting 5th October, 1961.

HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY

(12 meetings, once weekly) Course Fee $20

Tutor : Dr. Arnold C.L. Hsieh, B.Sc., M.D. St. John's (Physiology) Senior Lecturer in the Department of Physiology, University of Hong Kong.

This course will provide an introduction to those aspects of human physiology which have particular relevance for people living in climatic conditions such as we have in Hong Kong.

The lectures will deal with the functions and control of the respiratory, circulatory and endocrine systems and include discussions on the relationships of these systems to: (a) ability to perform exercises; (b) regulation of body temperature; (c) metabolism; and (d) abnormalities of body weight (underweight and obesity). Slides and films will be used to illustrate the course.

The course will be conducted in English and will meet on Fridays at 5.45 p.m. in the Lecture Theatre, Physiology Building (Extension), University of Hong Kong, starting 12th January, 1962.

FISHERIES RESEARCH AND ITS FIELD METHODS
